

BOOK SUMMARY

There is power in writing. Writing preserves the original intent of the writer. Writing provides proof on the source of the information. Writing provides the opportunity to tap into the wisdom of the writer. Writing crystallizes your thought and preserves it for posterity. Many of the great histories we have today were preserved through writing. Writing is a powerful tool that can transform the lives of readers. Memoirs of some of the world's greats have provided a blueprint for people to follow to find meaning and purpose for their lives. However, the gap has always been how to get more people to write. There are number of people who carry a lot of information that the world needs yet they lack the know how to do it. They lack the courage to write. There are many great stories being buried because the individual didn't feel it matters so much. This gap is the reason I wrote this book. I wrote this book with that person in mind: the one who wishes to start a writing career but has no clue. Each chapter of the book has been beautiful crafted with simple explanation to equip you to start your writing journey.

The gift of authorship is a special calling from God. Your writings may seem nothing to you but it has the potential of opening a new door of opportunity to your readers. A single sentence in your book can set somebody up for greatness. In this book I have helped explained the basics of being an author which I believe is enough to help you on your writing journey. Keep writing. Keep believing in the message you have for the world. Never doubt your capabilities. See you at your first book launch.
